GJERMUNDBU SPANGENHELM - VIKING HELMET

This reproduction of our Viking helmet is a cross between a Spangenhelm and the Gjermundbu helmet. The helmet features a mask to protect the face, completed by a large nose piece moved slightly forward with respect to the mask. There are decorations on the mask, which can be modified upon request. The mask also offers a mouth hole, which makes breathing easier. On the sides there are steel plates to protect the ears.
